INTRODUCTION

Local Runner is a women-, AAPI-, and runner-owned lifestyle brand founded by three friends in NYC.

What started as a shared journey training for our first NYC Marathon grew into something bigger over shared miles together. Along the way, we fell in love with the local running communities that made the sport so special, and the unspoken connection between runners who just get it.

We created Local Runner to celebrate that sense of belonging and the lifestyle that extends far beyond the miles. At the heart of it all, we're here to keep running fun and bring that same spirit into everything we do: together, one mile at a time.
